The Bachelor Officers’ Quarters (BOQ) is on the north side of the conference center grounds. This building was originally built in the 1940’s and is set above the parade field between two Victorian homes.

The BOQ is well suited to groups of 30-50 people all year round. The billable minimum is lowered to 22 from November through February. It is an all-inclusive facility, where groups can sleep, dine and hold large and small-group meetings in one space.

The BOQ's lower level hosts a commercial kitchen, which is available for groups who would like to provide their own meal service. The dining room is adjacent to the kitchen and leads into a large group meeting space. This meeting space is equipped with a podium, a wall-mounted white board, a screen, a ceiling-mounted digital projector, DVD & VCR players and a connector cable for laptop computers. Beyond the large meeting space are men’s & women’s bathrooms, four bedrooms, and a small-group meeting space.

The upper level of the BOQ has a central hallway with rooms on either side. Each room sleeps two people on twin beds. Men’s and women’s bathrooms are centrally located. There is also a small meeting space at one end of the upper floor.
