Jacqui Smith-Bates, Director
spu.edu/cdc

The Center for Career & Calling (CCC) helps students clarify and make decisions about their major, internship, and career or vocational calling from the freshman year through the senior year and beyond.

Opportunities to partner with CCC:
- Refer students to CCC who need help choosing a major, deciding on career direction, finding jobs or internships, or discerning God’s call for their life work.
- Encourage students to participate in internships. Students should do at least one internship prior to graduation, preferably in their junior year. Currently, there are more internship openings than students to fill them.
- Encourage students to register for GS2001 for help choosing a major, and GS2001 for help finding career direction and vocational calling.
- Ask students about their vocational plans during advising appointments. Questions for undecided students can be found at spu.edu/depts/career/advising.

Student Counseling Center
Student Union Building, 2nd floor
206 281 2577
Steve Maybell, Director
spu.edu/cdc

The Student Counseling Center (SCC) helps students clarify and make decisions regarding the breadth of their education, and support students in the healing process towards their full potential as they learn to live in community. SCC provides counseling and therapy for individuals, couples, and groups, as well as consultation and educational presentations through the University. The Center has a registered dietitian who provides nutritional guidance, a special eating disorder program, and works closely with Health Services’ professional nursing staff and consulting psychiatrist when medication is indicated.

Opportunities to partner with SCC:
- Confidentially consult SCC staff regarding student concerns.
- Offer presentations in classrooms about the SCC as a resource and a variety of mental health issues.
- Partner with SCC for seminar and workshop presentations.

Multi-Ethnic Programs
Student Union Building, 2nd floor

Susan Okamoto Lane, Director
spu.edu/mep

Multi-Ethnic Programs (MEP) plays an integral role in supporting and implementing the University’s initiatives related to diversity and reconciliation, focusing specifically on the student experience.

Opportunities to partner with MEP:
- Identify and refer students from ethnically and culturally diverse backgrounds (domestic and international) in need of support.
- Participate in programs to promote diversity and reconciliation.
- Consult with faculty and others about how to facilitate conversations in classrooms or in other contexts.
- Foster student leadership training on topics related to racial and ethnic identity, diversity, and responding to racial issues.
- Collaborate with staff and departments regarding issues of diversity and reconciliation.

Staff members in the Office of University Ministries (OUM) serve as SPU campus pastors, providing 1-on-1 and small group mentoring and pastoral counseling for students as needed. In addition, staff partner with other campus groups (such as ASIPP) to operate large-scale ministry and spiritual formation programming on campus, including:

Weekly Worship Services:
- Gather (Tuesday morning chapel) at 11:10am in the sanctuary of First Free Methodist Church
- Group (Wednesday night worship and study) at 8:30pm in Lower Gwinn Commons
- Grace (Friday afternoon prayer and communion) at 12:30pm in Demaray Chapel (bottom floor of FFMC)

Discipleship Ministries:
- Student Ministry Coordinator (SMC) program, providing small group, mentoring, and Bible study opportunities on every residence hall floor
