The Student Counseling Center (SCC) is committed to the emotional, social, physical, and spiritual well-being of SPU undergraduate students. It is staffed with professional clinical therapists and professional graduate interns. SCC provides counseling and therapy for individuals, couples and groups as well as consultation and educational presentations throughout the University. The Center has a registered dietitian who provides nutritional guidance, a special eating disorder program, and works closely with Health Services’ professional nursing staff and consulting psychiatrist when medication is indicated.

Opportunities to partner with SCC:
- Confidently consult SCC staff regarding particular student concerns.
- At student’s request (written consent), work collaboratively to provide accommodation/explanation of student progress.
- Encourage referral to SCC or off-campus counseling providers (the SCC maintains an up to date list of providers in the community).
- Presentations in classrooms about the SCC as a resource and a variety of mental health issues.

Health Services
Watson Hall, 1st floor
206.281.2231
Jean Brown, Director
www.spu.edu/healthservices
www.spu.edu/healthservices/swine-flu-info.asp
Health Services is a regular clinic providing low-cost, quality health care primarily to students. Nurse practitioners assess, diagnose and treat illness and injuries. Wellness exams are also available. Students may also purchase University-sponsored health insurance, but insurance coverage is not required to use Health Services.

Opportunities to partner with Health Services:
- Identify students with a medical need or in crisis and encourage students to contact or visit Health Services.
- Confidentially alert Health Services staff about medical concerns.

Dean of Student Life
Student Union Building, 2nd Floor
206.281.2481
Jeff Jordan, Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs / Dean of Student Life
www.spu.edu/studentlife
The Dean of Student Life collaborates with the academic deans, Les Steele (Vice President for Academic Affairs) and Cindy Price (Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs/Curriculum & Assessment) to achieve educational goals by bridging the curricular and co-curricular aspects of education.
- Supports OSL departments with student learning:
  - Identity and self-awareness
  - Interpersonal skills
  - Responsibility and community awareness
  - Reflection and meaning
- Understands student trends and legal and cultural issues to assist in university programs for increased student learning.
- Serves as Ombudsperson for students:
  - problem-solving
  - navigating the appeals process

OFFICE OF STUDENT LIFE 2011-2012

Partnerships for Learning

Vocation & Service
Voice & Reconciliation
Community & Respect
Leadership & Strengths
Success & Self-authorship
Well-being & Courage
Health & Understanding

Seattle Pacific University
Engaging the world, changing the world.
Office of Student Life

Center for Career & Calling
Student Union Building, 2nd floor
206.281.2485
Jacqui Smith-Bates, Director
www.spu.edu/cdc

The Center for Career & Calling (formerly Career Development Center or "CDC") helps students clarify and make decisions about their vocational calling from the freshman year through the senior year and beyond. Our goal is for students to make work/life decisions based on knowledge of their unique strengths, interests, faith, and God's call to reconciliation in the world. To this end, we offer career classes, workshops, individual career counseling, and a wide variety of career-related programs (look for our quarterly SpringBoard brochures). Current postings of internships and job openings, and many other resources for finding meaningful work, can be found on our website. Information to assist faculty with advising students on career/vocational issues, internships, and writing reference letters for employers is also available.

Opportunities to partner with CCC:
- Ask students about their vocational plans during advising appointments. Questions for undecided students can be found at www.spu.edu/depts/cdc/faculty/advising.
- Encourage students to register for GS 2001 for help deciding on a major, and/or GS3001 for help finding their career direction and vocational calling.
- Encourage students to participate in internships. Students should do at least one internship prior to graduation, preferably in their junior year. Currently, there are more internship openings than students to fill them.
- Refer students to CCC who need help choosing a major, deciding on career direction, finding jobs or internships, or discerning God’s call for their life work.

Multi-Ethnic Programs
Student Union Building, 2nd floor
206.281.2598
Susan Lane, Director
www.spu.edu/mep

Multi-Ethnic Programs (MEP) plays an integral role in implementing the University’s initiatives toward racial and ethnic reconciliation. The focus of MEP is to understand diversity and move students and the campus community toward reconciliation and unity.

Opportunities to partner with MEP:
- Identify and refer ethnic minority and international students in need of support.
- Participate in awareness and educational programs hosted by MEP, Mosaic, ASSP Intercultural Director, and other student groups.
- Collaborate with staff regarding issues of diversity and reconciliation.

Residence Life
Student Union Building, 2nd floor
206.281.2043
Kimberlee D. Campbell, Director and Chief Judicial Officer
www.spu.edu/reslife

The Office of Residence Life (ORL) provides a living-learning environment that promotes educational excellence and personal growth. This includes maintaining a safe and welcoming community founded on Christian faith and values, through student leadership development, social activities and topical program facilitation, along with providing behavioral accountability for both on- and off-campus students.

Opportunities to partner with ORL:
- Contact Residence Life staff to learn how to become involved in residential student activities and leadership development opportunities.
- Refer individual students of concern to Residence Life staff for resources related to roommate conflicts, homesickness, personal wellness, transition into college, etc.
- Partner with Residence Life staff to offer educational sessions in campus housing around your areas of interest such as cultural issues, values, current affairs, relationships, etc.
- Consult with Residence Life staff regarding SPU community standards and lifestyle expectations, including academic integrity.

Center for Learning
Lower Moyer
206.281.2475
Niki Amarantides, Director
www.spu.edu/cfl

The Center for Learning (CFL) provides services to support undergraduate student learning and academic success. By better understanding the learning process and themselves as learners, students can develop more effective habits of learning. CFL services are available and used by students at all levels of academic achievement.

Center for Learning services include: tutor-led study tables, learning consultations, Success in College courses, the Writing Center, and Disability Support Services.

Opportunities to partner with CFL:
- Include information about Center for Learning resources in your syllabus.
- Include information about disability support services in your syllabus.
- Refer students for specific support or learning concerns: Niki Amarantides, x2492
- Offer presentations on effective learning strategies in your class: Mary Jayne Allen, x2553
- Receive information and clarification about academic accommodations when a student (undergraduate and graduate) in your class has a documented disability. Disability Support Services: Heather Carlson, x2272