

Collegium Community Covenant 2015-2016

Seattle Pacific University hosts an exciting Collegium program to serve undergraduate commuter students. The Collegium is a gathering place—a home away from home—where members can relax, study, store a meal, engage in programming, or catch up with classmates.

The vision of the Collegium revolves around creating a caring and inclusive community of commuter students. Providing a warm and welcoming environment for commuter students, the Collegium aims to provide educational opportunities, collaborative learning experiences, access to campus resources, interdisciplinary interactions, leadership opportunities, and above all else, community.

As a member of the Pacific Collegium at Seattle Pacific University, I commit to fostering a healthy community. I agree to play an active role in the Collegium by:

1. Demonstrating respect for the physical space of the Collegium

I agree to respect the Collegium space at all times by maintaining proper order of the kitchen area, cleaning up after myself, using the furniture gently, and keeping all Collegium property inside of the Collegium at all times. I understand that I will be held financially responsible for any damage or theft of Collegium property. Additionally, I agree to respectfully utilize Collegium computer equipment, using Collegium computers for reasonable periods of time while keeping others in consideration, and allowing others to obtain access to Collegium supplies.

2. Signing in every time I enter the Collegium

I agree to assist the Office of Student Involvement and Leadership (OSIL) in collecting Collegium member usage data by signing in every time I use the Collegium space. I understand that if Collegium sign in records show that I have signed in to the Collegium less than 10 times per quarter, my membership may be revoked.

3. Developing respectful relationships with other Collegium members

I agree to treat fellow Collegium members, guests, and Collegium assistants with dignity and respect. I agree to keep discussions to a respectable volume level at all times and refrain from cell phone usage while inside the Collegium space.

By entering into this covenant with my fellow Collegium members and the community of Seattle Pacific University, I am committing to responsibly, intentionally, and actively promote the purpose and mission of the Collegium.
