1. Take the required 2000-level survey courses first—the sooner, the better:

ART 2602 Western Tradition I: Ancient and Medieval Art
ART 2603 Western Tradition II: Art Since the Renaissance
2. Take your required Studio Art courses early – preferably during the freshman or sophomore year (choose 2). Most Studio Art courses are eligible. Talk to your advisor for more information.
3. Take your required 3000-level courses as a sophomore, junior, or, if necessary, senior.
ART 3605 Modern Art
ART 3606 Cross-Cultural Encounters
ART 3608 Issues in Contemporary Art
ART 3611 Reading Images
4. Take your 10 cultural immersion courses as a sophomore, junior, or, if necessary, senior. (Cultural immersion credits can be study abroad or language. Language should be 10 credits beyond competency. Talk to your advisor about the best language fit for you.)
5. Take your “concentration area” courses as a junior or senior. (8 credits, 3 Upper Division. Talk to your advisor about how to select courses that best match your interests.)
6. Wait until your senior year to take an ART Capstone.

You can substitute certain Study Abroad courses for the required courses listed above. Talk to your advisor for more information.
