From This Place

This weekend, Seattle Pacific University sends you to join other alumni in engaging the culture and changing the world. Whatever your chosen profession -- from medicine to engineering, from music to business -- you are part of a long tradition of SPU alumni with deep knowledge and strong character.

Go forth with our love, our prayers and our confidence that you will care for the world as you've cared for one another.

We're proud of you.
