

GENDER-BASED VIOLENCE COMMUNITY RESOURCE GUIDE 2020-2021

SUPPORT SERVICES AT SEATTLE PACIFIC UNIVERSITY

THE OFFICE OF SAFETY & SECURITY.....(206)281-2922

<https://spu.edu/administration/office-of-safety-security>

The Office of Safety & Security provides assistance with safety escorts, let-ins and card access on campus. Officers are trained to assist during emergency situations, including mental health crisis.

The SPU community is encouraged to report criminal incidents and concerns about sexual misconduct to the Office of Safety and Security (OSS). OSS provides threat assessments and safety planning, and can explain what SPU and non-SPU options exist for people experiencing abuse, stalking, domestic/dating violence, harassment, sexual exploitation, sexual assault. OSS can also aid an SPU community member in navigating the court system to obtain a protection order or assist them in reporting a crime to local law enforcement or obtaining a Sexual Assault Nurse Examination (SANE). Email SAFE@spu.edu.

THE OFFICE OF INCLUSIVE EXCELLENCE(206)281-2515

<https://spu.edu/diversity>

The Office of Diversity, Equity and Inclusion is the senior administrative unit on campus that provides leadership for the work of diversity at Seattle Pacific University. OIEx supports ongoing diversity efforts, provides training and consultation on a variety of diversity-related matters, and builds individual and institutional capacity to work productively toward our university diversity goals. It includes work in the areas of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion, Faculty Life, and Title IX/Section 504.

REPORT ON-CAMPUS SEX DISCRIMINATION AND OTHER SEXUAL MISCONDUCT – All members of the SPU community are encouraged to report instances of possible sex discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual assault, and other sexual misconduct as soon as possible. Reports alleging sex discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual assault, or other sexual misconduct on Seattle Pacific University’s campus, by an SPU student or employee, or in SPU’s programs or activities should be made to the University’s Title IX Coordinator, a sexual misconduct report receiver or anonymously by using the SPU Online Reporting Form. You can learn more about how SPU responds to reports of sexual misconduct at <https://spu.edu/diversity/nondiscrimination-title-ix-oie/responding-to-reports>.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORTING OPTIONS

All University employees other than pastoral counselors, professional counselors, Health Center staff, and student employees are required to report information disclosed to them about sexual misconduct to University administrators. Students may also go to the Student Counseling Center to speak with a counselor confidentially. Note that pastoral and professional counselors and health center staff need to be acting in their role as such to be confidential resources (meaning reporting a crime to a professor who also happens to be a pastoral counselor during the professor’s office hours is not confidential reporting).

STUDENT COUNSELING CENTER.....(206)281-2657

<https://spu.edu/depts/scc/>

The Student Counseling Center at SPU is located at Watson Hall, next to Health Services. The SCC provides mental health, relationship, and nutritional counseling for undergraduate students at SPU, free of charge. The SCC also provides group counseling focused around specific subjects and can help refer students to community providers. They are currently operating through online appointments and currently offer a virtual drop-in service for informal, confidential consultation with a counselor. They are open Monday through Friday from 9:00am to 5:00pm with later evening and Saturday appointments available. First time appointments and same day crisis counseling may be scheduled by calling their front desk at the phone number above.

HEALTH SERVICES.....(206)281-2231
<https://spu.edu/administration/health-services>

The SPU Health Services clinic is located at Watson Hall. This office provides assistance with physical health. Health Services is committed to providing confidential, safe, and compassionate care to all SPU students.

STUDENT FINANCIAL SERVICES.....(206)281-2061
<https://spu.edu/student-financial-services>

Student Financial Services works hard to ensure that all students are comfortably assisted financially. Whether it is learning how to apply for financial aid or finding student employment, SPU is dedicated to providing help in navigating the complicated world of payment.

GROUP

<https://spu.edu/administration/office-of-university-ministries/campus-ministries/group>

This is not your standard “songs and sermon” program. Group is a holistic service, an immersion of the body, mind and heart in the Christian story. Meeting virtually once a week on Wednesday at 8:00pm, Group seeks to create spaces of belonging on campus. Group is organized by a team dedicated to helping students find understanding, peace and a community.

FREE METHODIST CHURCH.....(206)281-2966
<https://spu.edu/administration/office-of-university-ministries/chapel>

Free Methodist Church offers a weekly, campus-wide worship service with song, meditations on the Scriptures and prayer. The Chapel experience offers a peaceful sanctuary as well as a pastor in times of need.
