Dear Graduate,

It is indeed an honor to celebrate you and your achievements. I, along with your family, friends, and the faculty and staff of Seattle Pacific University, send you our most sincere congratulations on earning your degree.

I know how disappointed you must be to not be able to celebrate this special moment in person, as originally planned. However, as I mentioned in my April email to you, we are hoping to hold an in-person event at some point in the future, once we know more about health restrictions going forward. There is a cross-university team currently working to assess the possibilities for an in-person celebration. So, stay tuned for more information.

I also know how hard you have worked for this moment. Quarter after quarter, juggling exams and papers, adapting to new pressures, including distance learning — I know it wasn’t easy, but your perseverance has paid off. We are proud to recognize you as a member of the SPU Class of 2020.

I would encourage you to take a moment and acknowledge those who have given you love and support on your educational journey — parents, siblings, extended family, friends, professors, mentors. Although they likely don’t expect it, I am confident your words and expressions would mean a great deal to them.

As you enter this new season, you may occasionally feel adrift in the uncharted and less predictable waters after college. Never forget that God is with you. You have hope and a future in him, a stronghold in the gales of life.

If your college years and, more specifically, recent months have taught you anything, it’s that you are capable and resilient. You rise to challenges, and you are able to adapt, thrive, and extend your skills and compassion for others.

Only a small percentage of the global population shares in the privilege of attending college like you have. My hope is that you will discover an avenue of service to the world and others as you commence from this place to the life and path God has for your future. A degree can change your world, and it can help you change the world.

With the community you’ve found at SPU, you are now a “Falcon forever,” joining the ranks of Seattle Pacific alumni worldwide. We’ll miss you and everything you have contributed to our campus, and I hope you’ll stay connected to your alma mater. We want to hear about the impact you’re making; our shared stories create the history and future of this community.

As you are blessed by God, may you be a blessing to others.

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Daniel J. Martin". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a long horizontal line extending from the end.

Hymn

Great Is Thy Faithfulness

By Thomas O. Chisholm; music by William M. Runyan
Performed by Stephen Michael Newby, DMA
Professor of Music; Director of the Center for Worship

Great is Thy faithfulness, O God my Father;
There is no shadow of turning with Thee;
Thou changest not, Thy compassions, they fail not;
As Thou hast been, Thou forever wilt be.

Refrain

Great is Thy faithfulness!
Great is Thy faithfulness!
Morning by morning new mercies I see.
All I have needed Thy hand hath provided;
Great is Thy faithfulness, Lord, unto me!

Summer and winter and springtime and harvest,
Sun, moon, and stars in their courses above
Join with all nature in manifold witness
To Thy great faithfulness, mercy, and love.

Refrain

Pardon for sin and a peace that endureth,
Thine own dear presence to cheer and to guide;
Strength for today and bright hope for tomorrow,
Blessings all mine, with ten thousand beside!

Refrain

Commencement Speaker

BO LIM, PHD
An associate professor of Old Testament in Seattle Pacific’s School of Theology, Dr. Bo Lim has taught undergraduate and graduate courses at SPU since 2006. He earlier taught at Chicago’s North Park University and pastored Korean-American congregations in Northern California for several years. From 2014 to 2018, he served as the interim chaplain for SPU, providing leadership during times of great joy, as well as during tragedy and challenges.

Dr. Lim attended UCLA as an undergraduate, and earned his master’s and doctoral degrees from Trinity Evangelical Divinity School. His research areas include Old Testament prophetic literature, exile and forced migrations, Asian American Biblical interpretation, and the theological interpretation of Scripture. He authored The ‘Way of the LORD’ in the Book of Isaiah, has co-authored a commentary on the book of Hosea, and has written numerous articles for journals and edited works. Dr. Lim, an ordained minister of the Evangelical Covenant Church, is currently the preaching pastor at Seattle’s United Evangelical Free Church.

History of Academic Clothing

The traditions surrounding academic regalia — gown and cap — date back to the 13th century and have their roots in clerical garments, which were the earliest form of academic attire in England. The academic gown was first used at the University of Cambridge in 1284. American universities adopted the first Intercollegiate Code of Academic Costume in 1895. The American Council on Education later standardized the use of academic regalia in 1932.

Originally adopted as a way of affirming unity in the common pursuit of learning, as well as ensuring warmth in unheated stone buildings, academic regalia is now considered traditional attire for high-ceremony academic occasions. Participants wear regalia that demonstrates — by design and color — their highest academic degree, the general discipline in which they studied, and the university from which they received their degree.

At Commencement, graduates place the tassel for their mortarboard cap on the right side, moving it to the left when their degrees are conferred. Faculty members participating in academic ceremonies wear the tassel to the left throughout the proceedings. It is customary for men to remove their caps during prayer.

Seattle Pacific University proudly participates in this colorful tradition, which recognizes our part in the larger academic community and celebrates the importance of Commencement as a high ceremony.

Academic Seal and University Mace

In addition to academic clothing, Seattle Pacific University’s Commencement ceremonies include two other important features. The academic seal depicts SPU’s history, academics, and Christian faith. The University mace, which bears the academic seal, represents the authority of the president. The mace always precedes the president in academic high ceremonies.

Recognition and Awards

HONORS AT GRADUATION
The baccalaureate degree is conferred with honors on the basis of the student’s cumulative SPU college-level grade point average. Cum Laude recognizes the achievement of a 3.5–3.74 grade point average and is signified by the wearing of a white honor cord; Magna Cum Laude recognizes the achievement of a 3.75–3.89 grade point average and is signified by the wearing of a silver honor cord; Summa Cum Laude recognizes the achievement of a 3.9–4.0 grade point average and is signified by the wearing of a gold honor cord. The honors that are recognized in the Commencement ceremony are based on the Seattle Pacific University grade point average at the end of Winter Quarter and are not finalized until the official awarding of the bachelor’s degree.

PRESIDENT’S CITATION AWARD
The President’s Citation is awarded to one graduating senior each year. The finalists and recipient of this award exemplify the mission and vision of the University, are among those with the highest academic standing in their class, and have demonstrated high character, outstanding leadership, and service to the Seattle Pacific community.

UNIVERSITY SCHOLARS
Graduates in Seattle Pacific’s honors program, University Scholars, have completed a special sequence of integrative courses in the liberal arts, and are also required to complete a senior project and participate in an intensive capstone seminar. Those with completed honors projects follow.
